Jain Trade Community Reaches Out to Startups in Chennai

In its endeavor to support startups and give the economy a boost, the Jain International Trade Organization (JITO) organized an 'Investors Pitch Day' at the Jain Pavilion, Hanger 4, in Chennai. This was the 4th in the series of such events organized by the enterprising Jain community in different metros over the last few months, the aim of which is to fund and hand-hold young entrepreneurs in the country.

The Chennai Investors Pitch Day was particularly important being part of the prestigious 2-day JITO Connect programme in which Prime Minister Narendra Modi and several prominent politicians and business tycoons participated.

JITO is a unique multi-stakeholder community of visionary Jains who share a commitment to shape the future of the country by working with young entrepreneurs. It has 10 administrative zones, 61 chapters, and 37 units. It has over 6,000 members and their numbers are rising every day.

JITO's Investors Pitch Day is an excellent opportunity for startups and entrepreneurs to showcase their potential.

A host of high-potential startups pitched their business ideas to JITO's Angel Network (JAN) members for investments, while several others participated just to learn from the experience.

The Chennai Investors Pitch Day was marked by enthusiastic participation and hectic activities. There were entrepreneurs from various fields: Education, Finance, IT, Transport, etc. making pitches and seeking investment.
